To Whom It May Concern

Paul Gabauer was engaged by us in November 2006 to construct a large residence for Dick & Philippa Smith at Tuckers Rock Road Repton NSW.

This residence was a very modern architecturally designed building comprised primarily of concrete, steel and glass, with the highest quality materials, including services and fixtures and fittings and was required to meet the specifications necessary for a primary bush fire zone. Given the remote location, the construction of facilities to provide water, sewerage and fire services was an important and complex aspect of the project.

Despite the complexities involved in this type of residential building, which took thirteen months to complete, the construction ran very smoothly under close supervision by Paul and his excellent foreman, both of whom proved to be highly experienced and first class communicators.

What was also evident over the construction period was that this builder only engaged top quality trades people, who not only integrated easily into a very tight program, but produced the quality workmanship expected in this type of project.

Since the completion of the project we have engaged Paul to carry out further work for us and we highly recommend his operation to anyone wishing to engage his services.

Yours faithfully
